a. Webster/Gardner Appeal

- i. Justice stated their stances on the Webster/Gardner appeal.

1. Associate Chief Justice Salter provides her stance on the appeal that there is no proof to validate the absence of the sample ballots. Kennedy Webster's name could still be identified as her on the ballot. The date on the ballot was indeed an error but it wouldn't affect the outcome of the election. Also, candidates leading the student to the poll is a violation but doesn't really affect the outcome of the election and could not be proven through the photo's and video sent.

2. Associate Justice Rollins agreed that the outcome elections wouldn't have changed no matter the allegations.
3. Associate Justice D. Williams agree that the outcome of the elections would not have changed.
4. Associate Justice Small stated that yes, her name was spelled incorrectly but it wouldn't have changed the outcome, there is no evidence supporting anyone walking voters to the polls, and the videos don't support statements.
5. Associate Justice M. Williams stated that the invalid name and date doesn't change the results, it was a harmless error and the evidence of candidates walking voters to the poll is insufficient.

ii. Justices voted on whether to appeal the election or not.
